Christopher Prine Confirmed to Executive Committee of the National Conference of Appellate Court Clerks

Christopher Prine, Clerk of the Texas Court of Appeals, First District, has been confirmed to the Executive Committee of the National Conference of Appellate Court Clerks (NCACC).

Christopher A. Prine was appointed as the Clerk of the Court for the Fourteenth Court of Appeals in August 2008. On January 1, 2013, Mr. Prine was appointed to also serve as the Clerk of the Court for the First Court of Appeals. After law school, Mr. Prine served as a briefing attorney at the 14th Court of appeals and in 1998 he served as a chambers attorney at the 1st Court of Appeals. Mr. Prine's private practice focused on insurance defense and probate and estate litigation.

Mr. Prine received his B.A. degree from the University of Texas at Austin, and his J.D. from South Texas College of Law.

The National Conference of Appellate Court Clerks was established in 1973 with the objectives of improving the skills and knowledge of its members, promoting effective court administration, providing a forum for the exchange of ideas, and maintaining facilities for the dissemination of information concerning appellate court operations. Its membership is comprised of state, federal, and military appellate and Supreme Court clerks from the United States, District of Columbia, territories and possessions of the United States, and tribal appellate courts.
